Mon Corps Fantastique: My Amazing Body

About 15 minutes. Grown-up tip: Ask your child to touch their 'tête' or 'main' when you say the French word aloud.

Use this poster to label your own diagrams. Look at the word bank below to help you write. Example: To say 'my head', write 'ma tête'. Remember: use 'le/la/les' for the body part and possessives like 'mon/ma/mes' when saying 'my'.

- Identify the French word for 'hand' from the word bank and write it down.
- If 'le' is used for masculine nouns, why do we use 'la' for 'la tête'?
- Translate the phrase 'my foot' into French using the word bank.
- Look at the word 'les yeux'. Why does it start with 'les' instead of 'le' or 'la'?
- Write a short French sentence using 'J'ai' (I have) and one body part from the list.

Did you know? Did you know? The word 'tête' comes from the Latin word 'testa', which originally meant a clay pot or shell! Rosa the parrot says that learning body parts is the first step to describing yourself in a French play or song.
