Rosa's French Shopping Trip

Learning objective: I can name items found in a French shop and use simple phrases to talk about shopping.

About 15 minutes. Grown-up tip: Practise the pronunciation of the French words together aloud before writing them down.

Welcome to the market! Rosa the parrot is here to help. Look at the word bank to help you answer the questions.

Example: If you want to say 'I have an apple', you write: 'J'ai une pomme'.

Word bank: le pain (luh pan) - the bread · la pomme (la pom) - the apple · le chocolat (luh sho-ko-lah) - the chocolate · la banane (la ba-nan) - the banana · J'ai (zhay) - I have · Je voudrais (zhuh voo-dray) - I would like

1. Match the French word to the correct English item: 1. le pain, 2. la pomme, 3. le chocolat. (3 marks)

2. Rosa is at the shop. Use the word bank to finish this sentence: 'Je _____ le chocolat.' (I would like the chocolate). (1 mark)

3. If you have a banana in your basket, write the phrase in French: 'I have the banana'. (2 marks)

4. Look at the items: Bread (£1), Apple (50p), Chocolate (£2). How much is one bread and one apple altogether? (2 marks)

5. Explain why it is important to be polite when shopping. Give one reason. (2 marks)

Draw: A bright, friendly illustration of Rosa the parrot sitting on a market stall in a British village, surrounded by baskets of apples, bananas, and loaves of bread.

Extension challenge: Write a short dialogue in French between a shopkeeper and a customer using 'Je voudrais' and 'Merci' (thank you).

I did it! Name: _____ Date: _____

Too easy? Try Greater Depth. Too tricky? Try Supported. More at bookflik.com/resources