Finn's Geography Discovery Quiz!

Learning objective: To distinguish between human and physical geography and identify key features of both.

Finn the dolphin is exploring the world! Help him sort out what is natural (physical) and what is made by people (human). Choose the correct answer or write a quick one-word response.

1. B, 2. False, 3. Physical, 4. C, 5. Human, 6. True, 7. A, 8. Human, 9. False, 10. B

Word bank: Mountain · Bridge · River · City · Forest · Factory

1. What is physical geography? A) Things built by humans B) Natural features of the Earth* C) The study of money D) How to drive a car (1 mark)

2. True or False: A skyscraper is a physical geography feature. (1 mark)

3. If Finn swims past a huge, snow-capped mountain, is this a human or physical feature? (1 mark)

4. Which of these is an example of human geography? A) A waterfall B) A volcano C) A motorway* D) A glacier (1 mark)

5. A bustling city with shops and houses is an example of what kind of geography? (1 mark)

6. True or False: A river is a physical feature because it occurs naturally. (1 mark)

7. Which feature would you most likely find in a rural area? A) A farm* B) A shopping centre C) An airport D) A subway station (1 mark)

8. A bridge built across a valley is a ____ feature. (1 mark)

9. True or False: A forest is a human geography feature. (1 mark)

10. What do we call the study of how people use the land? A) Physical Geography B) Human Geography* C) Space Science D) Weather Watching (1 mark)

Draw: Draw a picture of a landscape that has one physical feature (like a hill) and one human feature (like a house) in it!

Extension challenge: Can you think of a place where human geography and physical geography meet? For example, a port where a city is built next to the ocean. Describe it in one sentence.