

World Book Day Quiz

Learning objective: To test and reinforce understanding of World Book Day and the importance of books in our lives

Answer the following questions about World Book Day to test your knowledge. Some questions are multiple choice, some are true/false, and some require a 1-word answer.

World Book Day is an annual event celebrated on the first Thursday of March. It's a time to celebrate the joy of reading and books. Pip, our cheerful bookworm caterpillar, loves to read and collect words. He learns about different cultures by reading books about different countries. Nova, the curious barn owl, asks brilliant science questions and loves to know about the world's geography. Ellie, the kind elephant, has an incredible memory and loves history and stories.
