

Finn's Trade Adventure

Learning objective: Describe how trade helps countries and communities exchange goods and services.

Draw a scene showing how trade helps the world become a better place. Include a map with two countries, and Finn the dolphin visiting a market.

Draw: Draw a colour map of the world showing two countries, England and Brazil. On the map, draw a red line to show the ocean between the two countries. Draw Finn the dolphin swimming in the ocean towards the market on the shore of one of the countries. In the market, draw a variety of stalls selling different goods and services, such as flowers, clothes, and food.

Label words: market · goods · services · trade · countries · ocean

Steps:

1. What is trade? Give two examples of goods and services that can be traded.
2. What is Finn's role in this picture?
3. Label the countries on the map.
4. Draw a picture of a good being traded at the market.
5. What might be a benefit of trade for the people of one of the countries?
