

Sacred Texts: The Great Library Match-Up

Learning objective: To identify and associate different sacred texts with their respective religions and understand their importance.

Max the monkey is helping tidy the Great Library! He has found several sacred texts, but the labels have fallen off. Match the name of the sacred text to the religion it belongs to, and then explain why these books are special to the people who use them.

Word bank: The Bible · The Qur'an · The Torah · The Vedas · Christianity · Islam · Judaism · Hinduism

1. Which sacred text belongs to Christianity? (1 mark)

2. Which sacred text belongs to Islam? (1 mark)

3. Which sacred text belongs to Judaism? (1 mark)

4. Which sacred text belongs to Hinduism? (1 mark)

5. Why do you think many religions treat their sacred texts with extra care and respect? (2 marks)

6. How might a person use a sacred text in their daily life to help them make a good decision? (2 marks)

Draw: Draw a picture of a beautiful, ornate book cover for a sacred text, using patterns and colors that you think show it is very special.

Extension challenge: Can you find out if any of these sacred texts are written in a language other than English? Write down the name of the language and which book it is used for.