

Finn's Amazing World Map

Jump on board with Finn the Dolphin to explore our big, beautiful blue planet!

- There are seven big pieces of land on Earth called continents. Can you name one?
- The huge areas of salty water between the continents are called oceans.
- Finn the Dolphin loves to swim in the Pacific Ocean, which is the biggest ocean of all.
- We look at a map or a globe to find where the different countries are located.
- Every continent has different animals, plants, and weather for us to discover.

Did you know? Did you know? Even though we live on land, over 70 percent of our planet is covered by deep, blue oceans! That is why Earth is often called the Blue Planet.
