

Celebrating Amazing People: Black History Month

Celebrate, Discover, and Shine! Join Ellie the Elephant on a journey of discovery.

- Ellie the Elephant says: Black History Month is a special time in October to remember people who were very brave.
- Many people have used their voices to teach others about being kind and fair to everyone, no matter what they look like.
- We can learn about doctors, scientists, and artists who worked hard to change the world for the better.
- By sharing these stories, we help make sure that every person's history is remembered and celebrated.
- You can be a hero too by showing kindness, sharing stories, and listening to your friends every single day.

Did you know? Did you know? Black History Month is a time when we learn about the stories of people who have made our world a better, kinder, and fairer place for everyone!
