

Conjunctions Adventure with Pip the Bookworm

Learning objective: To identify and use coordinating conjunctions (and, but, or, so) to join words and clauses in sentences.

Print these cards double-sided or cut them out to play a matching game. Use them to help Pip the Bookworm build longer, more exciting sentences!

What is a conjunction?	Which conjunction shows an addition?
A word used to join two parts of a sentence together.	and
Which conjunction shows a choice?	Which conjunction shows a contrast or surprise?
or	but
Which conjunction shows a reason or result?	Complete the sentence: Pip likes red apples ____ green pears.
so	and
Complete the sentence: I wanted to play outside, ____ it started to rain.	Complete the sentence: Would you like a biscuit ____ a piece of cake?
but	or
Complete the sentence: I was tired, ____ I went to bed early.	Join these two sentences: I have a cat. I have a dog.
so	I have a cat and a dog.
Join these two sentences: It is sunny. It is cold.	Can you spot the conjunction: Max likes bananas and grapes.
It is sunny but it is cold.	and