

Pip's Punctuation Party!

Join Pip the Caterpillar and grow your super sentences!

- Every sentence must start with a tall, proud capital letter.
- We use finger spaces to give our words a little room to breathe.
- A full stop is a tiny dot that tells the reader the sentence has finished.
- Names of people and places always start with a special capital letter too.
- Reading your sentence out loud helps you hear if it makes sense.

Did you know? Did you know? Pip loves to collect words like leaves! When he puts them together to make a sentence, he always starts with a big capital letter and ends with a tiny full stop, just like a little seed in the garden.

Key vocabulary: Capital letter · Full stop · Finger space · Sentence · Word · Writing