

Reading Detectives with Pip the Bookworm

Learning objective: To develop reading comprehension skills by identifying characters, settings, and main events in a short story.

Read the front of each flashcard to test your memory of how to understand a story. Check your answer on the back to see if you have spotted the clues like a true reading detective!

What do we call the people or animals in a story?

A character.

Where and when a story takes place is called the...

Setting.

If you guess what might happen next, you are making a...

Prediction.

What is the name of the book or story called?

The title.

A book that is not true and comes from someone's imagination is called...

Fiction.

A book that is true and tells us real information is called...

Non-fiction.

The main events that happen in a story are called the...

Plot.

If Pip the caterpillar says 'I love books!', is that a fact or an opinion?

An opinion (it is what Pip thinks).

True or False: The setting helps us understand where the characters are.

True.

Why do we look at pictures in a book?

To help us understand the story better.

What do we call the person who wrote the book?

The author.

What is the very first thing you should do when you start a new book?

Look at the front cover and read the title.