

Ellie's Social Studies / History Hero Fact-File

Learning objective: To learn about significant individuals from Black history and identify why their contributions are important to our community.

Help Ellie the Elephant learn about a special person from history! Choose a person who has made a difference in the world. Use the fact-file below to draw them and write down three things that make them a hero. You can ask a grown-up to help you look at pictures or books to find your facts.

Word bank: brave · kind · inventor · leader · teacher · helpful · important · story

1. Name of my Social Studies / History Hero: Write the name of the person you have chosen to learn about.

2. What did they do?: Tell us why this person is important. Did they invent something, help people, or change the world?

3. My favourite fact: Write down one interesting thing you found out about them.

4. Why I admire them: Tell us which quality you like best about them, such as their kindness or their bravery.

5. My connection: If you could say 'thank you' to this person, what would you say to them?

Extension challenge: Share your fact-file with a friend or your teacher. Can you explain why you chose this person and what makes their story special?
