

Max's Net and Wall Games Match Report

Learning objective: To evaluate performance in net and wall games and identify tactics for success.

Max the monkey is helping us master our PE skills! After your lesson on net and wall games (like tennis, badminton, or bench ball), fill out this match report to reflect on your tactics and teamwork. Think about how you moved around the court and how you communicated with your partner.

Word bank: accuracy · communication · rally · tactics · positioning · cooperation · footwork · serve · control

1. The Game Plan: Which net or wall game did you play today, and what was your main goal for the session? (2 marks)

2. Tactical Thinking: Describe how you changed your positioning on the court to make it difficult for your opponent to return the ball. (3 marks)

3. Teamwork Talk: How did you and your partner communicate during the game? Give an example of a time you worked well together. (3 marks)

4. Skill Spotlight: Which specific skill (e.g., serving, volleying, or movement) did you find most challenging today, and why? (2 marks)

5. Future Goals: If you played this game again next week, what is one thing you would do differently to improve your score? (2 marks)

Extension challenge: On the back of this sheet, draw a bird's-eye view diagram of the court you played on. Use arrows to show the best path to move to stay in the 'ready position' after hitting the ball.
