- Keep your personal information private: Never share your full name, home address, school name, or passwords with anyone you meet online, even if they seem friendly.
- Treat others with kindness: If you wouldn't say it to someone's face, don't type it in a message or comment. Being a good digital citizen means spreading positivity, not unkindness.
- Check your sources: Just because something is on the internet, it doesn't mean it is true! Always look for reliable websites and ask an adult if you are unsure about what you are reading.
- Tell a trusted adult: If something you see online makes you feel worried, sad, or confused, don't keep it a secret. Talk to a parent, teacher, or another trusted adult right away.
- Protect your devices: Use strong, unique passwords for your accounts and keep your privacy settings turned on so that only the people you choose can see your profile.

Did you know? Did you know? Every time you visit a website, post a comment, or share a photo, you leave a 'digital footprint'. This is like a trail of breadcrumbs that tells a story about your online activity, and it can stay on the internet for a very long time, so always think before you click!
