

Diwali: The Festival of Lights

Illuminate Your Knowledge: Discover the Radiance of Diwali!

- What does the lighting of clay lamps, known as diyas, symbolise during the festival?
- How do families prepare their homes to welcome the goddess Lakshmi and invite prosperity?
- Why is Diwali often referred to as the 'Festival of Lights' in various traditions?
- In what ways do communities share the spirit of the festival with their neighbours and friends?
- How does the triumph of light over darkness represent the core values of this celebration?

Did you know? Did you know? During Diwali, many families create intricate Rangoli patterns on their doorsteps using coloured powders, rice, or flower petals. These beautiful designs are intended to welcome guests and invite good fortune into the home!

Key vocabulary: Diyas · Rangoli · Lakshmi · Divinity · Prosperity · Celebration · Tradition · Victory