

Celebrating Eid with Zara the Zebra

Join Zara the Zebra to discover the sparkle and joy of Eid!

- Eid is a very happy celebration for Muslim families all around the world.
- People often wear their brightest, most beautiful new clothes to celebrate this special day.
- Families visit the mosque to pray together and give thanks for all the good things in their lives.
- It is a tradition to give gifts or small amounts of money, such as £5 or £10, to children as a treat.
- Many people enjoy sharing a big, yummy feast with their friends, neighbours, and family members.
- Eid is a time for being extra kind and helping people who might need support in our community.

Did you know? Did you know? Eid al-Fitr is often called the 'Festival of Breaking the Fast'. It marks the end of a month of fasting called Ramadan, where people show their love and thankfulness by sharing delicious food and spending time with their friends and family.
