

Writing a Biography with Ellie the Elephant

Discover a Life Story: Become a History Detective with Ellie!

- A biography is a true story written about someone else's life.
- Biographies are written in chronological order, starting from when the person was born.
- We use the past tense because the events have already happened.
- A good biography includes interesting facts and important achievements.
- Authors often include quotes to show what the person really said.

Did you know? Did you know? Ellie loves reading biographies because they are like a map of a person's life, showing us how they grew up and the amazing things they did to change the world!
