

Become a Reading Detective with Pip the Bookworm!

Put on your detective hat and look for clues in the story!

- Before you start, look at the front cover and guess what might happen. This is called a prediction.
- Check who is in the story. Where do they live and what do they like to do?
- If you see a word you do not know, look at the pictures for a clue to help you understand.
- Think about how the characters are feeling. Are they happy, sad, or feeling brave?
- When you finish a page, talk about what you have read to help it stay in your memory.
- Always ask yourself: 'What happened at the beginning, the middle, and the end?'

Did you know? Did you know? Pip the Bookworm has read over one hundred books! Pip says that every page is a new treasure map waiting for you to explore it.
