- Every great story starts with a clear setting, which tells the reader where and when the events are taking place.
- A compelling protagonist is the main character who faces a challenge or dilemma that drives the plot forward.
- The plot should follow a sequence of events, including an exciting build-up, a climax where the tension is highest, and a resolution.
- Using descriptive vocabulary, such as powerful verbs and precise adjectives, helps the reader create a vivid picture in their mind.
- Dialogue between characters reveals their personality and helps the story progress naturally through spoken interaction.

Did you know? Did you know? The oldest written story in the world is 'The Epic of Gilgamesh', which was carved onto clay tablets in ancient Mesopotamia over 4,000 years ago. Pip the caterpillar loves reading these ancient tales to see how stories have changed over time!
