

Ma Journée à l'École (My Day at School)

Join Rosa the parrot on a colourful tour of your classroom in French!

- To say 'a book' in French, we use the word 'un livre'.
- If you are talking about your classroom, you say 'la classe'.
- When you write in your exercise book, you are using 'le cahier'.
- If your teacher is a woman, she is 'une maîtresse'.
- To write your work, you might pick up 'un stylo'.

Did you know? Did you know? In France, the school day is often quite long! Many children stay at school until 4:30 in the afternoon, but they often have a very long lunch break to enjoy a healthy meal with their friends.

Key vocabulary: une école - a school · un maître - a male teacher · une maîtresse - a female teacher · un stylo - a pen · un livre - a book · la classe - the classroom · le cahier - the exercise book
