

Celebrating Amazing People with Ellie the Elephant

Let's learn together! Join Ellie the Elephant as we celebrate heroes, history, and the bright future we are building.

- Black History Month is a special time in October when we learn about the stories of people from Black heritage.
- Ellie the Elephant remembers that history is made of all the important things that happened before we were born.
- Many people from Black heritage have been great scientists, doctors, artists, and leaders who made our world a better place.
- Learning about different cultures and lives helps us to understand and care for all of our friends.
- We celebrate these heroes every year by sharing their books, their inventions, and their beautiful art.

Did you know? Did you know that Black History Month is a time when we look back at the past to learn about brave and clever people who changed the world? It is a time to share stories, listen to music, and say 'thank you' for the wonderful things these people have done for everyone!
