

Max's Magnificent Time Traveller Guide

Master the clock and make every second count with Max the Monkey!

- There are 60 seconds in one minute and 60 minutes in one hour.
- An analogue clock has a short hand for hours and a long hand for minutes.
- Digital clocks show the time using numbers, for example, 14:30 is half past two in the afternoon.
- There are 24 hours in one full day, split into AM (morning) and PM (afternoon/evening).
- To find the duration of an event, count the minutes or hours between the start time and the end time.

Did you know? Did you know? A day has 1,440 minutes in it! If you spent one minute for every one of those minutes trying to count them all, it would take you exactly 24 hours without a single break for a snack.

Key vocabulary: Analogue · Digital · Midnight · Duration · Interval · Quarter past · Half past · Quarter to