

A Musical Journey Around the World with Finn the Dolphin

Pack your bags! Join Finn the Dolphin as we travel across the globe to discover the amazing sounds of world music.

- Music is a special way for people to share their feelings and stories, no matter where they live in the world.
- Every country has its own unique instruments. For example, some places use hollowed-out logs for drums, while others use strings made from silk.
- Rhythm is the heartbeat of music. You can find different rhythms in dances from every continent on Earth.
- Traditional music is often passed down from parents to children through listening and singing, rather than writing it on paper.
- When we listen to music from other countries, we learn how people live, work, and celebrate in different parts of the world.

Did you know? Did you know? In many cultures, music is used to tell stories about history and nature. Some songs are played to celebrate harvests, while others are sung to welcome the sunrise!
