Exploring Special Books

Learning objective: To recognise that different religions have sacred books that are special to believers.

Talk about how we look after our favourite stories. Colour the picture and then add labels to the items shown.

Colour this: A line art drawing of a peaceful corner in a library. In the centre, there is a large, thick, beautiful book resting on a soft, decorative cushion. Beside the book, Ellie the Elephant is sitting quietly with her trunk resting gently on the table, looking at the book with a kind smile. The background shows a simple shelf with a few other books. The lines should be bold and clear for colouring. Ensure the book cover has a simple geometric pattern for children to colour in.

Steps:

1. Label the special book in your picture.
2. Label the cushion under the book.
