

A Sparkly Guide to Bonfire Night with Leo the Lion

Wrap up warm and join Leo the Lion as we discover why the night sky sparkles every November!

- Bonfire Night is held on the 5th of November every year.
- People build large fires called bonfires to stay warm and celebrate.
- Bright, colorful fireworks light up the night sky with loud bangs and whistles.
- Many families enjoy tasty treats like toffee apples and hot soup.
- It is very important to stay a safe distance away from the fire and fireworks.
- Always hold a sparkler at arm's length and wear gloves to keep your hands safe.

Did you know? Did you know? Bonfire Night is also called Guy Fawkes Night. It is celebrated on the 5th of November every year to remember a famous event that happened in history over 400 years ago!
