

The Romans: Masters of History

Step into the past with Ellie the Elephant! Discover how the Romans changed our world.

- The Roman Empire was a huge area of land ruled by a leader called an Emperor.
- Roman soldiers were organised into groups called legions, and their leaders were known as centurions.
- Romans lived in houses called villas, which often had beautiful floors made from colourful tiles called mosaics.
- They built amazing stone structures called aqueducts to carry fresh water into their towns.
- The Romans spoke and wrote in a language called Latin, which has helped us create many words we use now.

Did you know? Did you know? The Romans were brilliant engineers! They built a massive network of straight roads across Britain that we still use parts of today.

Key vocabulary: Empire · Centurion · Mosaic · Aqueduct · Villa · Latin