

Celebrating Black History Month

Join Ellie and Leo on a journey of discovery: Celebrating Our Shared History!

- History is the story of us all. Learning about the past helps us understand our world today.
- Many people from African and Caribbean backgrounds have helped build Britain. They have worked as doctors, artists, scientists, and teachers.
- Mary Seacole was a brave nurse who helped soldiers during the Crimean War. She used her own money to travel and care for others.
- Black History Month reminds us to celebrate the different cultures that make our communities strong and vibrant.
- By sharing these stories, we learn to respect everyone and value the unique talents we each bring to the world.

Did you know? Did you know? Black History Month is celebrated in the UK every October. It is a special time to share stories about people who have made our world a kinder and fairer place.
