

Writing a Magical Christmas Story

Get your pens ready, storytellers! Let's weave a winter tale that sparkles!

- A great story needs a setting. Describe your winter scene using colourful adjectives like 'frosty', 'twinkling', or 'cosy'.
- Every hero needs a goal. Does your character want to help a friend, find a lost star, or bake the perfect mince pie?
- Build the excitement! What is the big problem your character must solve before the celebrations can begin?
- Add a touch of magic. Use 'show, don't tell' to describe how your character feels when they see the snow falling.
- End on a high note. Make sure your resolution brings joy and warmth to all your readers.

Did you know? Did you know? The very first Christmas stories were often shared orally around a fire to keep spirits bright during the longest, darkest nights of the year! When you write yours, think about how the cold weather makes the warmth inside feel even more special.
