

Max and Zara's Guide to Nouns and Verbs

Master the Building Blocks of Language: Bring Your Sentences to Life!

- A common noun names a person, place, or thing, while a proper noun always begins with a capital letter, such as 'London' or 'Max'.
- Abstract nouns refer to things you cannot touch, such as 'bravery', 'happiness', or 'curiosity'.
- Dynamic verbs describe physical actions, like 'leaping', 'writing', or 'calculating'.
- Stative verbs describe a state of being or a feeling, such as 'believing', 'knowing', or 'owning'.
- Auxiliary verbs help the main verb to show time or possibility, such as 'was', 'have', or 'might'.

Did you know? Did you know that without verbs, a sentence is just a frozen snapshot? Nouns provide the 'who' and 'what' of your story, but verbs provide the 'action' and 'state of being'. Even a simple sentence like 'The monkey climbs' contains a noun and a verb, forming a complete thought!
