Get Moving, Get Scoring, and Work as a Team!

- What is the main goal in an invasion game? The goal is to move into the opponent's territory to score points or a goal.
- How do we stay in possession? Keep your head up, look for your teammates, and use short, accurate passes.
- Why do we defend? We defend to stop the other team from reaching our goal and to win the ball back for our side.
- How can you help your team without the ball? Run into 'open space' to give your teammate a clear target for a pass.
- Why is communication important? Talking to your teammates helps everyone know where to run and who is marking which player.

Did you know? Did you know? In invasion games, the most important space is the one you create for yourself when you don't have the ball! By moving into open areas, you make it much easier for your teammates to pass the ball to you.
