

A Brilliant Guide to Bonfire Night with Nova the Owl

Get ready to gaze at the night sky! Join Nova the Owl to learn all about the fifth of November.

- Bonfire Night takes place every year on the 5th of November.
- Many families go to public parks to watch colorful fireworks light up the night sky.
- Traditional snacks eaten on this night include toffee apples and warm jacket potatoes.
- Remember to always stand a safe distance away from any bonfire or sparkler.
- Sparklers are small handheld fireworks that glow brightly and create patterns in the air.

Did you know? Did you know? In the year 1605, a group of people tried to change the government by hiding gunpowder under the Houses of Parliament. It was discovered before it could be used, and ever since then, people in the UK have lit bonfires to celebrate that the country remained safe!
