

Nova's Living Things Flashcards

Learning objective: To identify and classify living things using scientific vocabulary.

Read the front of the card. Try to guess the answer before looking at the back. Use the word bank to help you.

What do we call a living thing?	What is a group of animals with a backbone called?
An organism.	A vertebrate.
What is a group of animals without a backbone called?	What is the name for the place where an animal lives?
An invertebrate.	A habitat.
Which animal group has fur or hair and feeds milk to its young?	Which animal group has dry, scaly skin and lays eggs on land?
A mammal.	A reptile.
Which animal group lives on land and in water and has moist skin?	What is the process of sorting living things into groups called?
An amphibian.	Classification.
What do we call the stages a living thing goes through from birth to adult?	What is the natural world around a living thing called?
A life cycle.	An environment.