

Celebrating Remarkable People: A Social Studies / History Lesson

Learning objective: To recognise the contributions of significant historical figures and reflect on their impact on society.

Read the facts below, colour the scene carefully, and complete the labelling tasks to show what you have learned.

Colour this: A large, friendly illustration featuring Ellie the elephant standing in a library filled with history books. Next to Ellie, draw a portrait frame on the wall that is currently blank, inviting the child to draw an inspirational historical figure inside. Surrounding the frame, draw iconic items like a small lightbulb (representing invention), a globe (representing travel and change), and a quill pen (representing storytelling). Ensure the lines are thick and clear for colouring. Ellie is wearing a small academic cap. There is plenty of open space for children to add their own patterns and colours.

Steps:

1. Label the person in the centre who is holding a book.
2. Label the symbol of peace or kindness you have drawn in the scene.
