Celebrating Remarkable People: Black Social Studies / History Month

Step into the spotlight: Discover, celebrate, and be inspired by the history-makers!

■ Mary Seacole was a brave nurse who travelled a long way to care for soldiers. She used her own money and resources to set up the 'British Hotel' to provide food and comfort.

■ Walter Tull was a pioneer who became one of the first Black professional footballers in Britain. Later, he showed incredible leadership as an officer in the army.

■ Rosa Parks is remembered for her courageous stand for equality. Her actions in the United States inspired people all around the world to stand up for what is fair and right.

■ Celebrating Black history helps us learn about the diverse group of people who have helped shape our world, from scientists and writers to explorers and inventors.

■ By looking at the past, we can be inspired to be kind, brave, and helpful in our own communities today.

Did you know? Did you know? Black Social Studies / History Month started in the United Kingdom in 1987. It is a special time dedicated to sharing stories and celebrating the brilliant inventions, art, and leadership of Black people throughout history and today!
