- Neil Armstrong was the commander of the Apollo 11 mission, which launched from Earth on 16th July 1969.
- On 20th July 1969, Neil Armstrong became the first human being to ever step foot on the moon.
- While walking on the moon, Neil famously said, 'That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind.'
- Neil Armstrong was joined on this historic mission by two other astronauts, Buzz Aldrin and Michael Collins.
- The astronauts travelled in a spacecraft called the Lunar Module to land safely on the dusty moon surface.
- Before becoming an astronaut, Neil Armstrong was a naval aviator and a test pilot who loved flying planes.

Did you know? Did you know? When Neil Armstrong stepped onto the moon, he left behind a small metal plaque that said, 'We came in peace for all mankind.' It is still sitting there on the lunar surface today because there is no wind on the moon to blow it away!
