

Learning About Black History Month with Ellie the Elephant

Learning objective: To learn about the importance of Black History Month and celebrate the achievements of Black individuals.

Read the front of each card. Then, turn it over to read the answer. Ellie the Elephant has helped us remember these important facts. Use the word bank if you need help.

What do we call the month in October when we learn about Black history?	In which month do we celebrate Black History Month in the UK?
Black History Month.	October.
What does it mean to treat everyone fairly and with the same value?	What is the study of things that happened in the past?
Equality.	History.
How should we treat all people, no matter what they look like?	Who is the BookFlik character who loves to remember facts about history?
With respect.	Ellie the Elephant.
What can one person do to help make the world a better place?	Is Black History Month a time to be sad or a time to celebrate achievements?
Make a positive change.	A time to celebrate.
What does it mean to look back at the past?	Can we learn about Black history at other times of the year, not just in October?
Remembering history.	Yes, we can learn all year round.
