

PSHE Assessment: Living in Our Community

Learning objective: To understand how individuals contribute to a community and the importance of respecting diverse groups and shared spaces.

Read each question carefully and answer in full sentences where required. Ensure your handwriting is clear. You have 30 minutes to complete this assessment.

Max the monkey and his friends live in the busy village of Oakwood. In Oakwood, everyone has a role. Bea the honeybee helps the local garden flourish, while Ellie the elephant keeps the village library organised so everyone can learn. They all follow the village rules: respect each other's differences, keep the shared park tidy, and help those who are struggling. When a storm blew down the community sign, everyone worked together to fix it, showing that a community is strongest when people support one another.

Word bank: Cooperation · Contribution · Diversity · Responsibility · Respect · Community

1. Using the passage, define what a 'community' is in your own words. (2 marks)

2. Name two ways that Max, Bea, or Ellie contribute to the well-being of Oakwood village. (2 marks)

3. Why is 'respect' an important value for people living in the same community? (3 marks)
