Max’s Math-Adventure Report Builder

Learning objective: To identify and organize the structural features of a non-chronological report.

Max the monkey is writing a report about his favorite rainforest fruits, but he has mixed up all his sections! Read the 'word bank' features and decide where they belong in a non-chronological report. Write the correct feature next to its definition in the questions section below.

Word bank: Title · Introduction · Sub-heading · Fact Box · Photograph · Paragraph

1. 1. This is the very first thing you see. It tells the reader exactly what the report is about. What is this feature? (2 marks)

2. 2. This is a short, bold title for a specific section that helps the reader find information quickly. What is this feature? (2 marks)

3. 3. This is a group of sentences that share information about one specific topic. What is this feature? (2 marks)

4. 4. This is a small section separated from the main text that provides extra, interesting facts. What is this feature? (2 marks)

5. 5. This is the opening section that gives a general overview to hook the reader. What is this feature? (2 marks)

Draw: Draw a layout of a non-chronological report about a fruit of your choice. Make sure to label where your Title, Sub-heading, and Fact Box would go on the page.

Extension challenge: Choose an animal or a fruit and write one short paragraph of information for a report. Remember to include one interesting fact and a sub-heading to introduce it!
