

Grade 2 Religious Education Assessment: Bonfire Night and Community Traditions

Learning objective: To understand the historical origins of Bonfire Night and reflect on the importance of community, remembrance, and safety in British traditions.

Read each question carefully. Answer in full sentences where possible. Use your knowledge of history and community values to provide detailed explanations.

On the 5th of November, many people in the UK gather to watch fireworks and light bonfires. This tradition began after the failure of the Gunpowder Plot in 1605, when a group of people tried to destroy the Houses of Parliament. Today, while we remember this historical event, Bonfire Night is also a time for communities to come together, enjoy the warmth of the fire, and reflect on the importance of peace and safety.
