Exploring the Regions of the United Kingdom

Join Finn the Dolphin on a journey across the UK's diverse landscapes!

- The United Kingdom is an island nation surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean, the North Sea, and the English Channel.
- Regions in the north often have more mountainous terrain, while southern regions are known for flatter, rolling countryside.
- Urban regions, like London or Manchester, are famous for their large cities, busy shops, and important transport links.
- Rural regions are places where you will find more farmland, forests, and small villages rather than big city buildings.
- Coastal regions are located next to the sea and are often popular spots for holidays and fishing industries.

Did you know? Did you know? The United Kingdom is made up of four countries: England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland. Each country is further divided into regions, like the South West of England or the Highlands of Scotland, each with its own special traditions and geography!
