Join Pip and Leo on a journey to discover the power of kind choices!

■ A moral question is a question about what is right or wrong, rather than just what we like or dislike.

■ Values are the special beliefs we hold, such as being honest, helpful, or fair to everyone we meet.

■ A consequence is what happens after we make a choice; positive choices often lead to positive outcomes for our community.

■ Empathy is the ability to imagine how someone else is feeling, which helps us make kinder decisions.

■ Being responsible means taking ownership of our actions, even when we make a mistake, and trying to make things right.

Did you know? Did you know? Every time you make a decision, you are acting like a philosopher! Philosophers are people who love to think deeply about big questions, like 'What is the right thing to do?' or 'How should we treat our friends?'. Even small choices, like sharing a pencil or telling the truth, help shape the person you are becoming.
