Exploring Sacred Texts: Wisdom of the Ages

Dive into the pages of history and discover the words that shape the world!

■ The Torah is the central sacred text of Judaism, containing the first five books of the Hebrew Bible, often kept on parchment scrolls within a synagogue.

■ For Christians, the Bible is considered the inspired Word of God, consisting of the Old Testament and the New Testament, which tells the story of the life and teachings of Jesus.

■ The Qur'an is the holy book of Islam, believed to be the final revelation from God to the Prophet Muhammad, written originally in Arabic.

■ The Vedas are among the oldest sacred texts in Hinduism, written in Sanskrit, and provide the foundation for many Hindu rituals, philosophies, and spiritual practices.

■ The Guru Granth Sahib is the central religious scripture of Sikhism; it is treated with the respect due to a living human guru and is central to Sikh worship.

■ Sacred texts are not only used for private reading but are frequently recited aloud during community worship, serving as the heartbeat of religious tradition.

Did you know? Did you know? Before printing presses were invented, sacred texts were often painstakingly copied by hand by scribes. Some manuscripts took years to complete, using gold leaf and precious pigments to decorate the pages as a sign of deep respect for the sacred words.

Key vocabulary: Scripture · Revelation · Manuscript · Tradition · Oral History · Inspiration